

GENERAL SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING has now been in existence since November 2007 and all staff working in the Restricted Zone (RZ) of a Department for Transport controlled airport will be holding a current certificate. However, newly recruited staff will need to undergo this training as a prerequisite to applying for an airport ID pass. For example, airside office workers, airline operations and passenger service staff, engineering and maintenance staff, aircraft refuellers, shop, catering, and other staff in the departure/arrivals areas. In short all staff other than those listed below who are required to hold an airside pass.

PERSONNEL EXEMPT : Certain personnel are exempt from General Security Awareness Training if they have already received equivalent DfT Directed security training, for example :

- Ground Security Staff and Supervisors
- Aviation Security Managers and Instructors
- Aircrew and Aircrew Instructors
- In-Flight Caterers (who have attended DfT security training specific to in-flight catering)
- Cargo Operatives (who have received DfT Cargo Security Training)

SCHEDULED CLASSROOM COURSES : TrainingTeam have developed a course to meet the DfT requirements. This takes approximately three hours with a limit of 15 to the number attending.

Classroom training has the following advantages:

- the student can talk to the instructor
- points can be clarified immediately
- it is easier to cope with language difficulties
- access to a PC is not required
- training is completed on schedule
- student can be verified

IN - HOUSE COURSES : TrainingTeam can also provide this training at your own venue and at a time to suit you plus in-house courses can be tailored to the exact requirements of the customer.

Please call 01293 536943 to discuss your requirements with one of our sales team.

GSAT training covers the following subjects :

- The Threat to Aviation
- Objectives and Organisation of Aviation Security
- Restricted Zone Protection and Access Control
- Prohibited Articles
- The Trainees Role in Aviation Security

The student will be tested on the above as part of the course and on attaining the required standard will be issued with a named and numbered Certificate of Attendance.

All our Security Instructors are of course DfT approved.
